

Know Your Legal Rights when Fighting for an Airline Refund

Did you have a flight cancelled due to COVID-19 and were left dealing with the headache of an airline company not refunding your travel? Or did you receive a refund, only to have an unexpected expiration date on your airfare credit? You are not alone. Reports show that complaints about airlines have skyrocketed more than 5,500% over the previous year!

LegalShield can help a member experiencing issues with a delayed or cancelled flight, fighting hidden extra fees, and understanding airline travel policies, just to name a few!

Armed with LegalShield, you won't have to navigate these challenges alone. LegalShield understands and is prepared to help guide you in knowing what your legal rights are to an airline refund. You can feel more secure knowing that your Provider Law Firm is on standby for additional support if needed.
